NO REHEARING ON LIQUOR LICENSE DECISIONS ANNOUNCED BY COURT.

Judge Umbel Informs Committee That He Was Misunderstood, But That Committee Is Welcome to Hearing.

ANOTHER MEETING ON SUNDAY

In Munson Hall Attended by About 100 Citizens—Original Committee Appointed Will Appear Before Court Tomorrow Afternoon With Escort.

The court has not granted a rehearing in the matter of granting new liquor licenses in Connellsville. Judge Umbel called up Chairman J. I. Norton of the committee this morning to inform him that the ruling as taken at Saturday was not correctly understood. Judge Umbel states that the court will be glad to hear the committee tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and after that will determine whether the case should be reopened. If it is reopened the witnesses will be sworn as in a regular trial and examined and cross-examined. As a result of this explanation on the part of Judge Umbel plans for the advancing on Uniontown tomorrow morning have been abandoned. The committee composed of E. T. Norton, W. N. Leche, Dr. G. W. Gallagher, John Griffin and D. P. Lepley, will go to Uniontown and talk the matter over with the court. The committee appointed yesterday to gather evidence will however, continue on this work.

Up to yesterday the Perryopolis committee had received no word from the court regarding the protest made at the mass meeting there.

In spite of the bad weather more than a hundred persons attended the meeting in Munson's hall yesterday afternoon.

Plans for conducting the remonstrants side of the fight were outlined. The committee which arranged to consult with the court was continued to secure counsel and last evening retained Attorney H. L. Robinson. Efforts are being made today to secure the services of one or two more attorneys to represent the Connellsville complainants.

Another committee, clothed with the responsibility of rounding up witnesses and securing evidence was appointed. This committee is composed of Worth Kilpatrick, W. S. Bertram, E. G. Hall, Rev. R. C. Miller, William Murrin, J. R. Davidson, J. E. Gourley and E. W. Wright. Rev. Miller and William Murrin represent the South Connellsville people who have taken a great interest in the fight.

Although yesterday's meeting was principally for the purpose of outlining a plan of action a few remarks were made most of them being to the point. There was one clash between W. N. Leche and E. G. Hall which enlivened the proceedings. Mr. Leche had suggested the appointment of a committee to gather evidence and suggested the names of W. S. Bertram and E. G. Hall as members. Mr. Hall stated that he did not believe that he could be of great assistance in this way.

"Will you stand by your own words?" retorted Mr. Leche.

"Certainly," replied Hall.

"Well do you remember some two or three Sabbaths back you told me several things which led me to believe that you knew a whole lot about the matter."

When the committee was named later Mr. Hall was included.

The meeting opened yesterday afternoon with the selection of I. T. Hooper as chairman. Rev. E. V. L. Talmage delivered a prayer in which he urged wise and prudent action on the part of the body. I. T. Norton reported that the committee appointed had secured a hearing for Tuesday morning. Mr. Norton suggested that two or three attorneys be retained so that every body in town should go to Uniontown to endeavor to make a forceful exhibition. He urged that convincing evidence be secured for the hearing. As to the attorneys, D. M. Hertzog Robinson & McKean, W. S. Carnahan, R. B. Brownfield of Uniontown and E. F. Linder of Connellsville were suggested.

There was a general discussion of the matters at hand when F. E. Crouse of South Connellsville suggested the names of H. C. Miller and William Murrin of South Connellsville's representatives.

Rev. E. V. Talmage stated that while he would be a good man to gather testimony as a witness he would probably be practically useless.

"I have had my experience in license court matters that a number of the evidence amounts to nothing. They tie him up the first thing you know. He says he is and then the lawyer for the other side says 'There you are and that settles it.'"

W. N. Leche and T. C. Thomas and Attorney E. V. Talmage also addressed the meeting briefly, expressing their views as to the proper method of procedure. A. L. Kurtz was named treasurer.

This afternoon it was announced through Secretary Chase of the Y. M. C. A. that a delegation of citizens will accompany the committee to Uniontown tomorrow afternoon leaving Connellsville in one or two special cars at 1 o'clock.

Col. Roosevelt Writes Name In Book Of Gold

United Press Telegram.

PARIS, April 25.—A special aviation meeting, in honor of Col. Roosevelt has been arranged for tomorrow near Paris under the auspices of the Aero Cercle of Sports. Yesterday's election has crowded Colonel Roosevelt almost out of the newspapers today.

At the municipal luncheon today Theodore Roosevelt inscribed his name in the Book of Gold containing the names of all the foreign notables who have visited Paris. Tonight the Colonel will dine with General Bunau-Varilla and afterward attend the opera of Thompson and D'Hiln and occupy President Fallieres's box.

Col. Roosevelt at the Municipality luncheon today said that he was greatly touched by the many kind things the Parisians have said of him and if he had failed to live up to these things in the past he would make a special effort to fulfil them in the future. He also said that he had learned there was much to be sightseeing for Americans in Paris. This was his estimate of the address of welcome by Municipal President Carrons at the reception at the luncheon. "You are a man and France's faithful friend" was the opening sentence of President Carrons's welcome. He continued that Roosevelt had proven this by his remarks on race suicide and that France needs to follow Roosevelt's advice and that Paris is proud to have Theodore Roosevelt among its citizens. Roosevelt made his reply in French.

ELKS MINSTREL TO BE GREAT SUCCESS.

From the Program Prospects Are That Show Will Be Better Than Ever.

OLD FACES AND NEW ONES, TOO

Paul J. Bolger and S. P. Flenniken Are New Faces to Be Seen this Year. J. B. Millard and T. V. Donegan Are Sadly Missed.

The last full rehearsal for the Elks Minstrel which will be given at the Soisson on Wednesday and Thursday of this week will be held this evening. The program is all arranged and everything is in readiness for the curtain to rise.

Some old faces and a few new ones will be seen this year. Several members who have played important parts in past years will be missed this time but their places have been well filled. James B. Millard, T. V. Donegan and J. L. Stillwagon are three who were unable to devote the time required to take part. Paul J. Bolger is a new one as is S. P. Flenniken. The Elks Quartette is an added feature.

Master Willie Girard has the first song. "Helen" My Catoline will be William O'Donnell's offering. "To the End of the World With You" is the selection chosen by John Davis. "We'll Talk About You Anyhow" is the unique talking song. Director Stout has given W. F. Gobright "My Love is Greater Than the World" is the song which will introduce Paul J. Bolger to the Elk loving public. Strolling in Sam P. Flenniken's offering. The inimitable D. F. Girard will sing "Come After Breakfast." The first part will close with the funniest of all the funny songs that Doc Buttermore has sung.

The second part will be more than interesting. Alex Leiserning starts it off with a monologue which has been pronounced a scream from beginning to end. Then will come grand opera selection on A. A. Straub's Victrola at which time some of the high priced records will dispense the delightful tear shaker of Caruso and the various other tones of half a dozen or more singers known the world over.

Joe Gobright and Doc Buttermore have a talking and singing specialty which is highly recommended. The Elks Quartette composed of D. C. B. Pelcot, Clarence Flenniken, S. P. Flenniken and W. H. Smart.

Taken as a whole those interested in the affair and who have seen the rehearsals predict that Director Chas. F. Stout has produced the best minstrel show ever.

BODY OF VICTIM IS NOT YET CLAIMED

Unknown Mangled by Train at Bluestone Is Still at Sims' Morgue.

As yet the body of the unknown man who was killed near the Bluestone quarry last Saturday morning, lies in U. J. Sims' morgue unidentified. A description of the man and the name found on a receipt from the American Express Company, was sent to the Chief of Police at Hagerstown, Md. and last evening Mr. Sims received word from Hagerstown stating that the suit case had not arrived at Hagerstown and that no relatives of the man could be located.

The baggagemaster at McKees Rocks stated that the man said it was not necessary to put the street number on the suit case as he was well known in Hagerstown and everyone knew on which street he resided. It is a difficult matter to determine whether the name on the receipt is B. H. Crider or B. H. Cruder. Cruder was the name sent to the chief of police.

FORTUNE AWAITS AN OHIOPYLE MAN IN CHICAGO.

Lawrence C. Mayhorn Defended Old Man Eight Years Ago in Pittsburg From Attack of Drunken Foreigner and Is Made Heir to $160,000.

In a special from Ohiopyle, Robert Wyse, a staff correspondent of the Pittsburg Gazette-Times this morning relates the following story:

On Labor Day eight years ago Lawrence C. Mayhorn, a young man out of employment defended Dan A. Scully a little old man on the market from attack of an intoxicated foreigner at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, Pittsburg, and during the excitement attending the arrival of the police disappeared into the crowd.

A week ago after many struggles to keep bread in the mouths of his wife and four children, Mayhorn severely injured his back while working on his little farm in the mountains between Ohiopyle and Uniontown, Pa.

In his search for healing the man found a little village in the mountains where he could get rest and quiet. Here Mayhorn was confined to his cot.

Yesterday he received a letter from John A. Scully, who he remembered having defended an old man in Pittsburg eight years ago during an attack from a drunken foreigner. Without hesitation Mayhorn recalled the incident.

Why, yes I do," he said.

"Please tell me the details of the matter," Mayhorn was asked.

"I had been working as an engineer for the Driver Contracting Company at Isabella furnaces near Pittsburg, but I had finished up my work and was without a position. I started into the city with the intention of going to Glenwood to take an examination for a railroad job. When I reached Fifth avenue and Oakland City I met a friend and told him where I was going. He said that was no use in going to Glenwood that day as it was a holiday. I then discovered for the first time that it was Labor Day and my friend was right as there would be no one on duty to make the examination.

"After leaving my friend I started up Fifth avenue, walking slowly. When opposite the Grand opera house I noticed a little old man in front of me carrying a satchel. However he was a fine old man and says he was a gentleman as Italians often are, who was apparently very drunk. The foreigner was staggering fearfully and frequently turned into the old man and then fell back again only to repeat the manoeuvre again.

"Soon all three of us reached the corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street. Here matters came to a crisis. The old man half turned when the drunken again bumped into him. Whether any words passed I do not know. The next moment I saw the foreigner pulled a knife and struck the old man in the left side. The old man gave a cry and dropped his satchel. Instantly I struck the foreigner a blow with my fist on the neck and he fell to the ground face downward. The knife flew out of his hand into the street. I left the man and with my foot pushed the satchel into the direction of the old man, telling him to pick it up and go away.

"Meantime the foreigner was struggling to get away from me and a large crowd of people were congregating. Soon an officer was attracted to the scene. I knew the officer by the name of Jack and I believe his name was either Rodgers or Roberts. In any event the police man seemed to know me as he said:

"Hello Lawrence! is that you?"

"When the officer in charge of the foreigner I set upon him the crowd had disappeared. I did not tell the old man my name. I did not know the opportunity had arisen and the reason and place I did not see any reason why I should. Any other man would have acted as I did. I believe however that is probably why the old man wanted to know who had helped him and that the officer who I met to know me told him my name.

"Mayhorn the next day called upon with Wise & Bundy, 217 Fourth street Pittsburg. After holding various positions Mayhorn finally settled on his farm.

"Tonight Mayhorn wrote a letter to Mr. Scully in Chicago telling him of his intention of coming there within a few days as soon as possible. It is probable that Mayhorn will leave sufficiently recovered today for Chicago some time this week.

THE JURY IN THE HYDE-SWOPE KANSAS CITY MURDER TRIAL.

KANSAS CITY, April 25 —The trial of Dr H C Hyde for the murder of Colonel Thomas H Swope has brought out a number of sensations. Attorney Walsh, for the defendant, declares that instead of Dr. Hyde killing Colonel Swope for his money the doctor is a victim on the part of the other Swope heirs to cheat Mrs. Hyde out of her portion of the estate. Reading from left to right, first row, the jurymen are: E W. Castle, W. C. Crone, C. W Whitehead, William Beebe, George C Feldt, John Pilant, rear row, Byron C Lillard, W. W. Curran, Sam Johnson, F. DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a bunch came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote to you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. H. R. Hully, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

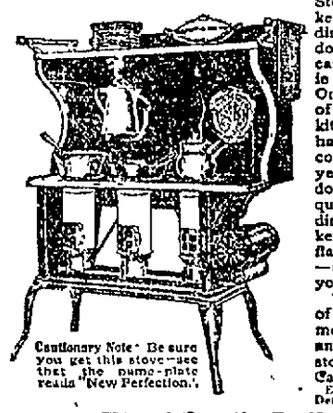
AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed —and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.



Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

A union service was held Sunday night in the Methodist Protestant Church at which the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. P. W. Perkins to the class of 1910. In addressing sentences Rev. Perkins held the attention of the large audience, much of the standing room being occupied and delivered some wholesome advice to the young people who are about to be graduated. In part Rev. Perkins said:

"That no one who was a laggard or a coward could wear the crown of success. That the first step toward success was to conquer Society. Cannot mention knows himself. One example of the necessity of a person knowing his own ability was Hugh Miller. He renowned geologist who contrary to the wish of his relatives left home a profession chose an apprenticeship in the stone mason trade in order that he might be near that part of nature for which his being yearned. In connection the value of a good character was impressively discussed."

THE COAL STRIKE NEARING AN END

The bituminous coal strike is slowly adjusting itself in Pennsylvania and it will no doubt ere long be a thing of the past.

A peculiar feature of the settlements is that they universally follow the ratio of advance demanded by the miners' national convention but universally depart from some of the other demands. Each district seems to be settling on its own terms barring only the rate of advance demanded and it will be remembered that there was no serious opposition to the advance of [illegible] demanded by the miners.

In this respect the settlements are reasonable and wise. The same rules cannot equitably apply to all districts because the conditions do not exist therein. This fact it may be observed in passing is a frequent cause of disagreement and dissension among the miners as well as the operators.

The strike was short but to the Connellsville coke operators it was sweet. It gave the latter some profitable coal business with which to fill in a dull period in coke and its collateral effect was to materially stiffen sagging coke prices.

It's an ill wind that blows no good and the fainting coke trade feels a freshing breeze.

THE COKING OF THE FREEPORT VEINS.

The announcement that the Allegheny valley Freeport coal veins are to be coked and a new coking district thus established will cause no terror to the Connellsville coke region.

It is admitted in the announcement that the Freeport veins contain a slate binder which will necessitate washing the coal in order to remove the slate parting. It might be added that washing removes other impurities beside slate.

But the fact that the coal has to be washed is proof against any serious competition. The process of washing adds materially to the cost of coking, and usually more than compensates for any difference in the value of the raw material. The Allegheny valley coal is no exception to this rule.

In fact a superior grade of coke may be manufactured from most low grade coals if they are thoroughly washed, the process of washing removing many of the principal impurities.

The Freeport coking coal proposition is none the less interesting to the Connellsville coke region and will be watched with the ultimate for the cause that this region is probably unequalled with low coals in.

It will be years however before the Freeport veins of the Connellsville can will be developed. The Connellsville coking veins are very much richer and more highly profitable and until they are practically exhausted there will be no general development of the Freeport veins in the section.

Fitz Joe Cannon—Come one; come all! This rock shall fly from its firm base as soon as I

Speaker Cannon is preparing to stick by his recent announcement not to retire from the cabin until next March.—News Item.

BOOSTERS' DAY SHOULD BE EVERY DAY.

The net results of Boosters' Day are reported to be eminently satisfactory and there is reason for congratulation in the announcement.

The highways and byways committees brought in a number of new members and what was equally important a number of contributions from business and property interests in addition to the regular dues of such members. The finances of the chamber for the ensuing year are consequently placed upon a good basis for energetic and effective work.

The executive officers of the chamber have done some excellent work and they are capable of doing much more during the coming year. We may reasonably hope to have a good report from them.

In the meantime we should be ever ready and willing to give them our perfect confidence and loyal support. The financial support has been pledged and will no doubt be forthcoming, but our moral support should always be ready; in other words, citizens should never lose an opportunity at home or abroad, of saying a good word for Connellsville.

Every day should be Boosters' Day for Connellsville people.

THE ELIMINATION OF THE LIQUOR AGENTS

The announcement of the license court that the Fayette county distillers must be ready to eliminate their agents on and after April 30th, with the fair presumption that if this ruling is entered against the distillers it will be extended to the brewers, will establish a new license court rule in the county, which all things considered may prove to be a wise one.

The agents were expensive adjuncts to the business, but they were the natural evolution of keen competition, and their employment resulted in increased selling expenses and decreased profit. The agent received a liberal commission and he was usually liberal in handing out inducements, liquid and otherwise, for the promotion of trade the cost of which fell upon the manufacturer. The banishment of the agent will probably reduce sales, but it will increase the profits of the business that is done.

If the whisky and beer agents are prohibited by the license court, the court through its machinery of justice should make a special effort to prevent the agents of distillers and brewers and liquor dealers outside of the county from coming into Fayette county and soliciting business here. There is a ruling on this subject now, but we are advised that its enforcement has been so lax that it has in some portions of the county at least become a dead letter.

If we are to have no liquor agents at home we should certainly have none from abroad.

NO REFERENCE TO HOT-AIR INDUSTRY.

There is no false modesty about our highly self satisfied contemporary the Uniontown Herald. The Courier said on Saturday:

Uniontown's leading industry came without the aid or consent of any foreign capital. Perhaps that is the reason why it has proven so successful, for the chief reason of its success will be found in its efficient management.

The Herald quotes the paragraph this morning and says:

We desire to thank The Courier for this tribute to the success and management of The Morning Herald.

The Courier referred to a radiator works, not a hot air establishment.

It pays to be kind and courteous to others, to aid the weak and suffering from the oppressions of the strong to be humane and just and generous, and the experience of an Ohioyle man proves that it sometimes pays handsomely.

The official report of the Coke Producers' Association has been suppressed for the present but it will doubtless continue to be printed by the Uniontown papers through the kindness of members who have more interest in journalism than in coke.

The industrial town of Gary is sure tired of having a press agent whose middle name is the truth is not always applied to attributions.

The Democrats complain that the Attorney General has "busted" no trusts. It should not be the policy of any government to bust up any large industrial concern, because in the busting process many innocent people suffer much. The trusts should perhaps sometimes be disciplined, but destroyed never. Their destruction is too apt to be the destruction that Sampson wrought in the Temple.

The announcement that a $10,000 hippodrome is to be built in Uniontown is a rather early recognition of one of Uniontown's greatest industries.

Theodorus the Great is engaged in a duel of politeness with the French but he could not resist handing them one on the subject of Race Suicide. Teddy has a happy habit of handing out something wherever he goes, and he hands it straight, too.

Russia and Germany cannot get over the habit of low butting, and thus betray a palpable cold use of professional progress and bad statesmanship.

A NEW CHURCH FOR SCOTTDALE.

The Reformed Congregation Votes Unanimously to Build Another House.

SMALL CHILD NEARLY DROWNED

Six-Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dull Fell Into Coal Hole—Out look For Good Fruit Crop Is Discouraging.

SCOTTDALE, April 25—Following a special sermon to the Odd Fellows of town and locality at the Reformed Church Sunday morning a vote was taken upon the proposition to erect a new church building. The entire congregation voted on this question and the sentiment was unanimous, there being no one cast against the building. Thus Scottdale will soon have much a new church building.

Scottdale Lodge No. 885 I. O. O. F. met at their hall and preceded in a body, nearly 100 strong to the Reformed Church where the pastor, Rev. W. J. Muir preached a special sermon to the order, the occasion being the ninety-first anniversary of the founding of the order in America. Rev. Mr. Muir is a member of the order himself and his sermon was a forcible exposition of the principles and aim of the fraternity.

The congregation at once upon the close of the sermon voted on the church building proposition, and it is now will be built costing approximately $15,000, on the site of the present frame structure on Chestnut street. The start of the building operations will not be made until the congregation has $10,000 raised and then the contract will be let. It is understood that the subscriptions stand in fair shape and that the balance may be easily secured. The building committee is composed of P. O. Peterson, Harry Uber, John Loughner, Ed Crosby and A. J. Geyer, and they have been considering this matter for several months. Scottdale will thus have a new church building this year, the Evangelical Lutheran congregation under the pastorate of Rev. D. W. Michael, now being engaged to build a new church structure to take the place of the one that became too small for the needed congregation.

A Narrow Escape.

Donald the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dull who live on the Oliver property owned by the late John Keffer at Overholt had a narrow escape from death by drowning. The child was playing around the coal hole in front of the house and fell in. Had it not been for his brother J. D. Dull, Jr., the little fellow would have been drowned. Donald with several other boys were playing about his own home when they espied the cover of the coal hole where the coal had been taken in from one of the trucks which unloads there. Thinking to have some fun with their little brother they placed the cover on the hole and left him. Donald, however, pushed the cover off and fell in and his little body disappeared from view. His brother, who could not get him out, then frightened, ran to the next door neighbor and told her that Donald had fallen in the coal hole. She ran to the hole and pulled the little fellow out of the water and, after a number of drowning first aids had been administered, the little fellow was brought to consciousness and is now no worse for his experience.

Moving From Scottdale.

Berry Shaffer of the Lafler Coal & Coke Company who operate the Scottdale coke works, out the pike from Unionstown are moving this week to that place where they will live in their residence. Their handsome residence here has not yet been rented but the demand for houses in this town is being shown by a number of applications for it since the news of the intended moves began to leak out Saturday evening.

Danger to the Fruit

The weather has resulted in the worst roads in the last week all the roads for a year being the muddiest they have been in many months. The long continued rainy weather and heavy rains that latter the greater in several months, has put a depressing condition on the fruit and there is little promise of a good crop, according to those who have investigated the matter. Cherries have been formed but the stems have been frozen and the cherries are dropping in great quantities. The apples and peaches show a poor and worst of all perhaps is the lack of bees this spring to cause fertilization of the blossoms. Bees generally at or here were either frozen during the long cold winter or starved from not having stored up enough honey to last them. Many colonies of bees were found to be exterminated by the cold and hunger. The clover crop promised very large to be, but this year but if there are no bees, either of the field or hive to fertilize the flowers the honey or fruit crop of the city will be but a small return from this source. The outlook for fruit is now considered as discouraging.

Anna Medlick is Held.

Miss Anna Medlick of Dunmont, was held for court Monday after a hearing before Justice H. M. Bierer. She was charged with the theft of $27 from the pocket of Mrs. Mary Mulvihill, circumstantial evidence being sufficiently strong to send the case to court.

Rev. Palmquist's Sermon On Tuberculosis Plague.

Rev. E. A. E. Palmquist at the First Baptist Church yesterday preached the following sermon on Tuberculosis:

"The National society for the study and prevention of tuberculosis have requested the pulpits of the United States North, the Federated Church Society to keep the subject in their annual meeting this week and to preach a sermon or address on tuberculosis. I, therefore, will be the base for the remarks about to be read. Additional facts were secured from the State Health Commissioner at Harrisburg.

"I intend by placing it from the records of department of Washington, D. C., as prompted by entitled 'Information on Tuberculosis' in the United States and was issued by the Department of the Interior at Washington in 1908.

"I will first mention the appearance of the microorganism known in the words from the given below and the second by the secretary of the society.

"I sincerely hope that the movement which you have inaugurated to be Sunday, April 24, will prove to be Sunday on which will serve to impress the attention of the congregations to the importance of the subject, to call the attention of their congregations to the importance of the subject and to give such information regarding it as may be of interest to them. It is not my purpose to enter into a discussion of the subject, but to call attention to the fact that it is necessary to take such precautions as will prevent the spread of the disease. It is a disease that can be prevented by the use of proper precautions. It is a disease that can be prevented by the use of proper precautions. GREAT VICTORY FOR THE MINERS.

Agreement Reached in the Central Pennsylvania Field.

RETURN TO THEIR WORK TODAY

Bituminous Operators Concede Practically Every Demand and Sign Scale—Feature of Settlement is 5½ Per Cent Increase in All Mine Work.

Altoona Pa., April 25.—After an all night session between the operators and coal miners' scale committees representing the bituminous fields of central Pennsylvania practically all of the demands of the miners were agreed to the scale was signed up and the miners throughout the district were ordered to return to work today.

An increase of three cents a ton in pick mining was granted while the price of all classes of labor about the mines will be advanced 5.55 per cent. When the scale committee went into session the feeling was gone of that a settlement would be effected but it was not till many hours had passed that both sides affixed their signatures to the contract which will govern the central Pennsylvania fields for the coming year.

In short the miners were granted practically everything which they demanded they withdrawing several of their original demands which were agreed for without any serious thought of their being granted.

The inside feature of the victory was the 5.55 per cent raise in all mine work aside from the actual mining of coal itself and for the latter an increase of three cents for pick mining and four cents for machine mining was granted. Hereafter the miners will receive 44 cents gross for all coal mined 48 cents gross for all machine mined and 40 cents gross for all coal mined by machine or hydraulic process.

Coal Shortage in Illinois

Chicago April 25.—With the supply of coal in Chicago rapidly diminishing the Illinois coal operators believe they will end the present coal famine without trouble and without any shutting down.

The officers of the miners' organization have given their word that there will be no strike for ten days or two weeks.

Unprecedented interest throughout the state which has risked to prevent the suspension. The miners in the shaft mine in Herrin Ill. have had their wages raised to allow miners to remain at work while the other coal mines and operations in the mines of Southern Illinois will shut down the Illinois Coal Operators' association has issued a statement that there is no reason for the miners refusing to take the proposition both because the increase would be unsatisfactory and an acknowledgment of his guilt.

NO TRACE OF YOUNG ADAMS

McKean County (Pa.) Lad Has Been Missing a Week.

Lewis Run N. Y. April 25.—Over 1,000 men made a thorough search of the woods in the vicinity of Lewis Run yesterday but failed to find any trace of the young boy Adams who disappeared a week ago.

The police have been reluctant to believe it was murder or kidnaping because of his own motive. Although a dollar or a half has been proffered as the result of the search it was decided to make a final effort to find the boy. This effort proved a failure.

STOCKMEN IN FATAL DUEL

Neighboring Ranch Owners Meet and Kill Each Other.

Austin Tex. April 25.—Word was received here of a duel to the death that was fought on Kelly ranch Border Lake between Emmett Newman and P. M. Gatlin two of the wealthiest stockmen in that section of Texas. Their ranches adjoin.

Newman used a rifle and Gatlin a six shooter. Cowboys with each of the duelists were also armed. Newman was shot through the head and fell dead from his horse. Gatlin was shot three times through the body and killed.

PREFERS PRISON CELL

Jones Will Die There Rather Than Pay $1,500 Judgment.

Dover N. H. April 25.—Rather than pay a judgment rendered against him for $1,500 Alfred M. Jones has remained in the Strafford county jail for eleven years. He is there today with eleven years growth of beard dangling from his chin like a silver branch. Here Jones he will die there.

This eccentric man has refused to take the pauper oath because he says that would be tantamount to an acknowledgment of his guilt.

BRYAN NOW AN ELDER

Formally Ordained in Little Nebraska Presbyterian Church.

Lincoln Neb. April 25.—In the Lincoln Westminster Presbyterian church midway between Lincoln and Denton W. J. Bryan was formally ordained and installed an elder of the denomination.

Mr. Bryan said he accepted the eldership because it imposed no new obligations which he as a Christian heretofore entertained.

MRS. JAMES S. SHERMAN WINNING FAME FOR HER PLAIN HOME DINNERS.

WASHINGTON April 25.—If there is one way better than another to win fame and popularity it is the good old plain home dinner route. Literally crowded clubs and state governors so those who have enrolled to eat them have to wait a good old fashioned dinner at home style in Washington which is now the vogue. Mrs. Taft's social secretary Miss Laura Harvey has set the pace which now has Mrs. Sherman and Vice President Sherman in the limelight of the past winter's social activities.

Mrs. Sherman's dinners are more than the usual formal affairs. Mrs. Sherman is the hostess and Miss Harvey is the cook. Mrs. Sherman has been heard to declare that she is planning a series of 12 home dinners during the month of May when parties are due to swamp the Washington social season. As Vice President Sherman is now campaigning in Wyoming and Senator Depew has left Washington Mrs. Sherman has been compelled to limit the number of guests for the dinners. If Mrs. Sherman does not limit her May dinners people would better look out. Mrs. Taft will be receiving dinners from the White House.

MARK TWAIN LAID TO REST

Simple Burial Services Held at Elmira, N. Y.

Elmira, N. Y. April 25.—While the rain came copiously beating a fatal tattoo upon the roof Rev. Samuel Eastman read passages of Scripture at the bier of Samuel L. Clemens.

Funeral services were held at the home of General Langdon where Mister was the late Mr. Clemens. The services were simple and there was no music.

The house was filled with representative citizens. The clergyman prayed that the light of him whose body was now without a soul would shine on all men from his works.

Just before the hour of the funeral there arrived a large floral design with the following card attached from the boys of Corlo. He (boy) made good. In remembrance of Samuel L. Clemens who has brightened their days with fun and laughter he brought them sorrow and grief and up for for their work, Quarries. The piece was given a conspicuous place at the bier.

Mark Twain's final earthly resting place was beside his lamented wife. Except for the new made grave all was heavenly green. Even the grave recently made for the daughter whose ending came so suddenly last December had its green blanket. Plain markers denote where the family members repose in peace.

SCORES SOCIETY GOSSIPERS

Woman Who Works Is Worth Ten Idlers, Says Cardinal Gibbons.

Baltimore, April 25.—"I have ten times more respect for the woman who goes out and earns her living, toils for herself and family and becomes a good housekeeper than for the idle and gossiping society woman who passes away her precious moments in doing nothing." Cardinal Gibbons spoke thus in the sermon at the confirmation exercises at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

"Above all boys and girls be industrious," continued the cardinal. "It is an honorable thing to work, and honorable and industrious work is what has made this great nation. Never be afraid to work and always be ready to do your share when the time comes. Men alone should not be industrious."

BE INDEPENDENT
Buy a California Farm

J. S. & W. S. Kuhn, of Pittsburgh, Pa., have recently opened up for cultivation by irrigation a large tract of land in the Sacramento Valley, Cal. Home seekers are taking up this land rapidly. There is no more fertile land on the continent than in this wonderful valley. Oranges ripen here six weeks earlier than they do in Los Angeles or Riverside. The climate is milder than that of Southern Italy. There is no winter—no snow or ice. Twenty acres in this valley will yield more net profit than eight times that much land in the east.

Why not buy a farm in California to-day? Don't waste your time working for someone else when you can be your own master and live in the garden spot of this continent. Build your home in the Sacramento Valley where the enormous grain ranches which have been farmed for the past half century are now being turned into the enormously more valuable small fruit farms.

Leave the dirt, work and poor climate of the east and live in California's continual sunshine. The initial cost is but $15 an acre. Will you write to-day to learn more about this wonderful opportunity. Send 10c in stamps for specially prepared and handsomely illustrated booklet, "California, Now or Never."

Seeking Site for Knights of Columbus Sanitarium Under Fair Arizona Skies.

By Marvine Colt.

DOUGLAS Arizona April 25.—The national committee appointed at the last Grand Council of the Knights of Columbus to select a site for a sanitarium for the order visited Douglas Monday. The committee is composed of J. J. Keane Esq. of Little Rock, Ark.; J. J. Kelly of Chicago and Robert J. Morrison the Arizona member of the committee. Mr. Kelly owing to illness at his home has been unable to accompany the other members on the tour over Arizona, but joins the territory later with Mr. Morrison. The committee will report back to the next Grand Council of the order which will convene in Quebec in August of this year.

The committee arrived at 9 a. m. on a motor. The Douglas Chamber of Commerce and Mines special committee met the visitors at the station and they were taken to the Gadsden hotel. There they were taken in autos to the smelter, the Knights of Columbus committee appointed locally, Daniel A. O'Donovan, Mike Torpey and Con Harvey accompanying the visitors on their little tour of inspection. From the smelters they were run to the proposed site for the sanitarium east of the city and just south of the terminus of Little Rita street. Here lies one of the most perfect sites that could be selected, the ground sloping up towards the mountain range, with perfect drainage and easy access into the heart of the city.

Dr. J. P. Armstrong was present at the examination of this ground in a professional capacity for the city, and pointed out the purity of the atmosphere drainage sunshine opportunity for exercise, good water and other advantages for a tuberculosis sanitarium.

The decision in regard to selection of a site will probably not be known for some weeks, and even months.

MINERS BURIED.

Victims of Ohio Explosion Laid in One Long Trench.

Steubenville, O. April 25.—Five thousand persons forming a parade a mile long headed by coal miners, Odd Fellows and Red Men, and two bands attended the funeral at Amsterdam of twelve persons who were killed in the Amsterdam mine of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal company.

The coffins were placed side by side in a trench thirty-five feet long at the Union cemetery. Relatives of the dead men occupied a space roped off for them along one side of the large grave. During the services Mrs. Amelia Hayes fainted and had to be carried from the crowd. She soon revived.

At the cemetery the coffin lids were raised and the crowd passed by to look at the faces of the dead. During this ceremony the Daughters of Pocahontas sang funeral songs.

Representing the United Mineworkers, John Kerr delivered an address and read the ritual. Professor Thomas Bell in a similar manner represented the Odd Fellows and Henry Hossman represented the Red Men with an address and the ritual.

Three foreigners who were killed in the mine at the same time were buried from the Catholic church at Dillonvale.

Oil Evangelist Sells Property.

April 25.—James Corbin of this city known as "the Oil King Evangelist," has disposed of 1,400 acres of developed territory in the Illinois field to George Washburn of Glenwood, Minn., when Corbin converted at one of his meetings. The price paid was $151,000. Corbin and Washburn, in a few months will begin a tour of the world on a mission of evangelism.

CRIPPLED TUG

At the Mercy of Waves on Lake Michigan.

Holland Mich. April 25.—In the severe gale which has swept Lake Michigan the tug Zenith having in tow an oil barge, was disabled about seven miles off Holland harbor and left at the mercy of the sea.

The barge, a steel craft about 200 feet long broke away and was sighted by the Holland lifesaving crew. Captain Van Welden ordered out the surf boat and made for the barge, rescuing Captain Know, the only man aboard.

Nothing has since been heard or seen of the Zenith and it is feared the boat with her crew of twelve men have perished.

ADVISES GIRLS TO FARM

Dr. Gill Tells Wellesley Students It's a Unique Occupation.

Wellesley Mass. April 25.—"Girls take up farming." That is the advice of Dr. Laura D. Gill of the Inter Collegiate Alumnae association to the Wellesley students.

"The thing for girls to do" said Dr. Gill "is to seek some unique occupation and do pioneer work if necessary. Professional farming is a line which girls may take up to advantage. When a girl leaves college she should take an account of stock as it were and see what qualifications what finances and what preferences she has for the different fields which are open to her."

'But you said he was in wine

'True But would that be a reason' Continually you show your lack of brain in accepting as conclusive results which could not possibly have occurred Granted he was in wine, granted he followed me granted he had my shoe in his possession—what then' Does it follow that at the ball at the White House he could have removed that shoe? Does monsieur think that I too was in wine?'

I agree that I have no brain' I cannot guess what you mean I can only beg once more that you explain

Now listen In your most youthful and charming innocence I presume you do not know much of the capabilities for concealment offered by a lady's apparel' Now, suppose I had a message where do you think I could hide it' mention, of course the conditions obtaining at a ball in the White House'

'Then you did have a message' It came to you there at that time'

She nodded Certainly, Mr Van Zandt had almost no other opportunity to meet us or get word to me'

'Van Zandt' Madam, are you indeed in the camp of all these different interests' So what Pakenham said was true' Van Zandt is the attache of Texas Van Zandt is pleading with Mr Calhoun that he shall take up the secret treaty Van Zandt promises us the friendship of Texas if we will stand out for the annexation of Texas Van Zandt promises us every effort in his power against England Van Zandt promises us the storms of fronts against treacherous Mexico Van Zandt is known to be interested in this fair Dona Lucrezia just as Polk is Now, then, comes Van Zandt with his secret message slipped into the hand of madam at the ambassador's ball madam, the friend of England' The attache of Mexico is curious to know what Texas is saying to England' And that message must be concealed' And madam conceals it thus—

She smiled at me brilliantly You come on she said Should your head be opened and analyzed yes I think a trace of brain might be discovered by good chemistry

I reached impatiently 'You got his message in your slipper?

She nodded Yes, she said it was the toe of it There was hardly chance to do that You see, our skirts are full and wide, there are curtains in the cast room, there was wine by this time, there was music, so I reflected that much But when you took the slipper, you took Van Zandt's note' You had it It was true, what I told Pakenham before the president—I did not then have that note' You had it At least, I thought you had it till I found it crumpled on the table the next day' It must have fallen there from the shoe when we made our little exchange that night Ah, you hurried me I never knew whether I was glad or shod, until the next afternoon—after I left you at the White House grounds So you hastily departed—to your wedding?

So small a shoe could not have held an extended epistle, madam, I said, ignoring her question

'No but the little roll of paper caused me anguish After I had danced I was on the point of fainting I hastened to the cover of the nearest curtain, where I might not be noticed Senor Yturrio of Mexico was somewhat vigilant He wished to know what Texas planned with England He has long made love to me by threats, and jewels As I stood behind the curtain I saw his face filled but one shoe—the empty one was not well fastened, and it fell I could not walk I reached down, removed the other shoe with its note, hid it in my handkerchief—thank Providence for the fashion of so much lace—and so, not in wine, monsieur, as you may believe, and some but anxious as you may also believe expecting to hear at once of an encounte between Van Zandt and the Mexican minister Senor Almonte, or his attache Yturrio or between one of them and some one else, I made my adieux—I will warrant the only woman in her stocking feet who bowed for Mr. Tyler at the ball that night'

Yes so far as I know madam, you are the only lady who ever left the cast room precisely so clad And so you got into your own carriage—alone after awhile' And so when you were there you put on the shoe which was left' And so Yturrio of Mexico got the other one—and found nothing in it' And so, he wanted this one'

You come on," she said 'You have something more than a trace of brain'

"And that other shoe, which I got that night?'

Without a word she smoothed out a bit of paper which she removed from a near by desk, and handed it to me

This was in yours' As I said, in my confusion I supposed you had it You said I should go in a sack I suppose I did' I suppose I lost my head, somewhere' But certainly I thought you had found the note and given it to Mr Calhoun, else I should have driven harder terms with him' I would drive harder terms with you, now, were I not in such haste to learn the answer to my question! Tell me were you married?'

Is that answer worth more than Van Zandt?' I smiled

"Yes,' she answered also smiling

I spread the page upon the cloth before me, my eyes raced down the lines I did not make further reply to her

'Madam," went on the communication, "say to your august friend Sir Richard that we have reached the end of our endurance of these late delays The promises of the United States mean nothing We can trust neither Whig nor Democrat any longer There is no one party in power, nor will there be There are two sections in America and there is no nation and Texas knows not where to go We have offered to Mr Tyler to join the union if the union will allow us to join We intend to reserve our own lands and reserve the right to organize later into four or more states, if our people shall so desire But as a great state we will join the union if the union will accept us That must be seen

"England now beseeches us not to enter the union, but to stand apart, either for independence or for alliance with Mexico and England The proposition has been made to us to divide into two governments, one free and one slave England has proposed to us to advance us moneys to pay all our debts if we will agree to this Settled by bold men from our mother country, the republic, Texas has been averse to this But now our own mother republic tells us not once but many times We get no decision Thus then, dear madam is from Texas to England by your hand, and we know you will carry it safe and secret We shall accept this proposal of England and avail ourselves of the richness of her generosity

'If within thirty days action is not taken in Washington for the annexation of Texas, Texas will never in the history of the world be one of the United States Moreover, if the United States shall lose Texas, also they lose Oregon, and all of Oregon Carry this news—I am persuaded that it will be welcome—to that gentleman whose ear I know you have and believe me always, my dear madam, with respect and admiration, yours, for the state of Texas, Van Zandt'

I drew a deep breath as I saw this proof of double play on the part of this representative of the republic of the south west Thus are traitors'" I exclaimed But there must be action—something must be done at once I must not wait I must go' I must take this, at least to Mr Calhoun"

She laughed now joyously clapping her white hands together 'Good'' she said You are a man after all You may yet grow brain'

Have I been fair with you thus far'' she asked at length

More than fair I could not have asked this of you In an hour I have learned the news of years But will you not also tell me what is the news from Chateau Rancza' Then indeed I could go home feeling I had done very much for my chief

Monsieur, I cannot do so You will not tell me that other news

'Of what"

'Of your nuptials'

'Madam I cannot do so But for your much as I owe you, I would like to wring your neck I would like to take your arms in my hands and crush them, until—"

I will what?' Her face was strange I saw a hand raised to her throat

Until you told me about Oregon' said I

I saw her arms move—just one instant—her body incline She gazed at me steadily, somberly Then her hands fell

Ah, God' how I hate you both' she said, "you and her You were married, after all' Yes, it can be it can be' A woman may love one man—even though he could give her only a bed of husks' And a man may love a woman, too—one woman I had not known

"Monsieur, adieu'" she added swiftly As I bent and kissed her hand 'Madam au revoir'"

No, adieu' Go!"

CHAPTER XVII

A Hunter of Butterflies

I love them not because they are men but because they are not women —Queen Christina

There was at that time in Montreal a sort of news room and public exchange, which made a place of general meeting It was supplied with newspapers and the like and kept up by subscriptions of the town merchants—a spacious room made out of the old Methodist chapel on St Joseph street I knew this for a place of town gossip, and hoped I might hit upon something to aid me in my errand, which was no more than begun, it seemed Entering the place shortly before noon I made pretense of reading all the while with ear and an ear out for anything that might happen

As I stared in pretense at the page before me, I fumbled idly in my pocket, with unthinking hand, and brought out to place before me on the table, an object of which at first I was unconscious—the little Indian blanket clasp As it lay before me I felt seized of a sudden hatred for it, and let fall on it a heavy hand As I did so, I heard a voice at my ear

"Mein Gott, man, do not' You break it surely"

I started at this I had not heard any one approach I discovered now that the speaker had taken a seat near me at the table, and could not fail to see this object which lay before me

I beg pardon,' he said, in a broken speech which showed his foreign birth but it is so beautiful, to break it is wrong'

Something in his appearance and speech fixed my attention He was a tall bent man perhaps sixty years of age of gray hair and beard, with the glasses and the unmistakable air of the student His stooped shoulders his weakened eye his thin, blue veined hand the iron gray hair standing like a ruff above his forehead, marked him not as one acquainted with a wild life, but better fitted for other days and scenes

I pushed the trinket along the table towards him

" 'Tis of little value I said, "and is always in the way when I would find anything in my pocket

'But once some one has made it, once it has been value, Tell me where you got it?'

North of the Platte, in our western territories," I said "I once traded in that country"

You are American?"

Yes"

'So, he said thoughtfully "So A great country, a very great country Me I also live in it"

"Indeed?" I said "In what part?"

'It has five years since I cross the Rockies'

'You have crossed the Rockies? I envy you

You misunderstand me I live west of them for five years I am now come east'

You have been at Fort Vancouver?

He nodded 'Also to Fort Colville, far north, also to what they call California far south, and again to what they may yet call Fort Victoria I have seen many points of the Hudson Bay Company"

I was afraid my eyes showed my interest but he went on

'I had been in the Columbia country, and in the Willamette country, where most of your Americans are settled I know somewhat of California Mr Howard of the Hudson Bay Company, knows also of the country of California He said to those English gentlemen at our meeting last night that England should have something to offset California on the west coast because, though Mexico claims California the Yankees really are there, and will rule there yet more He was right, but they laughed at him

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS LOST

Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa Hurt the Most—Grain Crops Have Withstood the Freeze in Good Shape.

Chicago, April 25.—Millions of dollars damage in more than a dozen states was caused by the freezing temperature of the last few days

Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, northern Indiana and Iowa suffered most severely

The territory covered by the storm reaches from St Louis to the Canadian line and beyond and from the Great Lakes to the western slope of the Mississippi valley Immense damage has been done to grains and garden truck in many sections and fruit has suffered greatly

The storm area is moving southeast ward and is expected to strike Kentucky and Tennessee today

Fruit crops are entirely ruined or so severely damaged as to be almost worthless Spring vegetables are killed berry plants are frozen and even early spring crops in some places are badly damaged

The fruit belt of the west shore of Michigan presents only a forlorn hope of recovering enough from the storm to bear a crop The plum cherry pear and apple yield is totally ruined The estimated loss in Berrien county will be $2,000,000 with an added one million loss to the grape crop in Van Buren county

All hope of fruit and early vegetables in Wisconsin is gone Truck gardens suffered around Chicago and apple trees in the southern part of the state were damaged

Grain crops are believed to be safe in most instances In some localities wheat and sprouts have been frozen to the ground but the roots have not been damaged according to the statements of grain men

Much Damage in Indiana.

Incalculable damage to all kinds of vegetation was done in Indiana Grape vine look as if they had been scorched with fierce heat early flowers have been killed and all small fruits have been blighted beyond hope of recovery

Fruit growers made strenuous efforts to save the smaller fruits and hundreds of them battled straw and [illegible] to other expedients but the efforts were in vain

The grape crop will be reduced to one third of the normal while cherries peaches apples plums strawberries and other small fruits are killed Hundreds of garden planted in March will have to be replanted

The fruit crops in normal years in Indiana are estimated to be worth about $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 and it is safe to say that the loss will be fully $5,000,000 this year

Memphis Tenn reports heavy fall of snow there with temperature within a fraction of a degree of the freezing point but no serious damage to the fruit crop in that section Sleet and snow is reported in northern Mississippi Tennessee Arkansas and Kentucky Much cotton is always ground thawed before at this season of the year the damage to the tender young plant is expected to be tremendous

Astronomer I R Hicks of St Louis says the arrival of Halley's comet gave us April weather in March and now we are suffering the reaction and that there will be a tendency to frost after rains until May 10 Other astronomers say the comet is too far away to affect our weather

POLICE SEEK THE MURDERER

Victim, Before He Died, Said Assailant Operated at McKees Rocks, and Authorities Believe Man Had Hand in Recent Bank Robbery.

Pittsburg, April 25.—Shot down by a companion who is believed by the authorities to be one of the men who robbed the Victor bank in Schoenville and killed two of the bank's officers, Dete Polovitch died in the Rochester (Pa.) hospital. He was found beside the Cleveland and Pittsburg tracks in Vanport helplessly wounded

In his ante-mortem statement Polovitch said that his assailant was one of three men who had committed robberies in McKees Rocks, Braddock and Woodlawn. Death came before he could tell a connected story of his knowledge of the gang and the police think that he was killed merely because he knew too much

Patrolman Copeland of Beaver found the man unconscious beside the railroad tracks Polovitch revived sufficiently in the hospital to talk a little, but he confined his narrative mainly to the manner in which he met with his wound

Before he died Polovitch gave the name of the man who shot him. The police of Allegheny and Beaver counties are searching for this man, believing that he may have some connection with the Victor bank affair also.
